The local lodge is about to have members strong last evening they paraded to St. George's church, where the Rev. G. C. McEwen, M.A., delivered a very practical discourse. This afternoon a lengthy program of sports and games will be carried out. Dinner and supper will be served on the agricultural grounds by the ladies guild of St. George's church.

CUSTOMS RETURNS

The returns of the Edmonton customs office for the month of June reveal the phenomenal increase in the work handled by this department. The progress of this district is a very stern reality to the customs office officials who are kept busy day and night with the increased work. The appended table sets forth the amount of customs duties collected during June and the amount of dutiable goods in each case, June, 1903.

	Customs Receipts.	Dutiable Goods.
First week	$1,076.25	$5,778.00
Second week	1,568.00	15,561.00
Third week	1,688.55	9,825.00
Fourth week	369.9	3,161.00
Total	4,702.70	34,325.00

For purposes of comparison we publish the returns for the corresponding month of last year.

	Customs Receipts.	Dutiable Goods.
First Week	$468.35	$7,330.00
Second week	434.64	2,454.00
Third week	140.48	2,041.00
Fourth week	236.10	1,325.00
Total	1,279.57	13,150.00

Thus the customs duties collected last month were $4,702.70 as against $1,279.57 for the same month a year previous.

There are signs of the customs office business at this point. The near much larger proportions in the near future, as for the first week in July, the amount of duties collected was $1,831.65 on dutiable goods to the value of $12,075.

LOCAL

—A heavy thunder and lightning storm passed over the city last night. H. Horwood has taken a position in G. F. and J. Gall's wholesale warehouses.

—About seventy-five of our local Orangemen left this morning for the Fort to attend the Orange celebration there.

—Telegraphic reports from Ottawa state that parliament will likely be adjourned shortly to meet again in September.

—The center frame part of the Queens hotel, formerly the old Hotel de Canada, is being moved up to the old race track.

—The Strathcona cricket club administered a thorough defeat to our local team on Edmonton grounds Saturday afternoon.

—Special services were held in the local churches yesterday. More extensive reports of which will appear in tomorrow's issue.

—A basket picnic will be held at C. P. R. land adjoining his homestead. Everybody welcome.

—Strathcona and Edmonton football teams play a friendly game on the old race track, Edmonton, this evening commencing at 7:30 sharp.

—Lacrosse players are requested to turn out to practice on the old race track every evening this week in view of a match with Strathcona on Friday evening.

—H. B. Shaw, superintendent of the western branches of the Union Bank of Canada, has been in the city the last few days and left for the south this morning.

—The Toronto Globe remarks that with two consecutive blockades in grain shipments from the west, it would be well to consider the chances of successfully moving the still larger crop now in prospect.

—A social meeting of the presbytery of Edmonton will be held on Tuesday 21st inst., at 8 p.m., in the Presbyterian church, Edmonton, for the purpose of ordaining Mr. A. M. Ross, missionary at Belmont, and Mr. G. W. Johnston, missionary at Riviere Qui Barre.

—Messrs. McDougall and Second purchased the following batches of furs last week: from Guillaume Desjarlais, for $12,701.00; from Augustin Lacombe, for $4,170.00; from Bredin and Cornwall, for $11,340.00; from Bredin and Cornwall, for $2,206.

—Mr. Frank Buchanan, chief officer of the Canada Royal Templars of Temperance, Toronto, and Mr. W. W. Buchanan, Winnipeg, will address a mass meeting of all those interested in temperance in the Presbyterian church this evening. A large attendance is requested.

—Saskatchewan Times, July 6.—An exporting party, consisting of Jos. McKenzie, C.E., son of Wm. McKenzie, of the firm of McKenzie and Mann, Fred Beatty of Melfort and Mr. Burns left Prince Albert by canoe for Cumberland. From there they will go overland to the Hudson Bay, mapping out the line for the C.N.R.

—Some excellent samples of wheat and barley were left in town last week. There are two kinds of barley, the beardless and the bearded. The wheat is three feet nine inches, and the barley three feet ten inches, long and both are out in head. The grain was sown on May 2nd, on the farms of J. S. Terrier and A. J. Kirk, 16-53-25, west of fourth, seven miles from Edmonton. C. W. Suter, Dominion immigration agent, is sending the samples to the Winnipeg exhibition.

—A definite and concise instance of the leaps and bounds of progress that the Edmonton district is enjoying is revealed in the fact that in the last twelve months $123,000 worth of settlers' effects have passed through the Edmonton Customs office free of duty. This does not include a large amount of goods which have passed through the customs office here on which duty was paid.

MCDUGALL METHODIST COLLEGE

The local committee which has charge of the work of establishing a college for Edmonton held a meeting on Friday evening last. Dr. Sparling, who was present, reported on the result of his canvass of the people of Edmonton and district. The report was so satisfactory that the committee unanimously decided to take instant steps to establish this institution. Every effort will be made to have the college in active operation by October first. It will not be a theological school, but will be under denominational control except that it will be under the control of the Methodist church. Young people of other denominations will have full and free access to the college, which will eventually have a residence in connection. The work taken up for the present will include the following courses: literary, commercial, musical and liberal arts course. The work will be of a high and finished standard throughout and the best teachers will be engaged. Professor Riddell, of Wesley College, Winnipeg, will be offered the principal's chair. The committee for establishing the college who are acting on the authority of the Western Methodist Conference is composed of: Rev. T. C. Buchanan, Calgary; Rev. J. M. Harrison, Medicine Hat; Rev. C. W. Finch, Strathcona; Rev. C. H. Huestis, M.A., Edmonton; Dr. McDougall, Calgary; Dr. Galt, Rev. J. H. Toole, Red Deer; Rev. A. R. Aldridge, Fort Saskatchewan; H. C. Taylor, W. T. Henry, A. T. Cushing, A. B. Cushing, W. H. Parsons, C. W. Mathers, P. E. Butchart, Edmonton; R. J. Houston, Partridge Hills, and C. T. Daykin, Lacombe.

EDMONTON MARKETS

Butter.—There is a very large amount of butter deliveries and the demand is rather weak. From twelve to fifteen cents a pound, according to quality, is being paid.

Eggs.—There has been a scarcity in the egg market the past week and consequently the demand is strong. Fifteen cents a dozen is being paid for good fresh eggs.

Potatoes.—Potatoes are scarce but the demand is rather weak. Forty cents a bushel is being paid.

Beef.—There is very little doing in this market. Local butchers are buying principally by the head. Good small fed cattle bring four cents per pound, live weight.

Hogs.—Although six cents has been paid for hogs the last fortnight, the last few days they have dropped half a cent. The demand is strong at 5 1/2 cents per pound.

Hay.—The hay market remains strong. From seven to ten dollars a ton is being paid, according to quality.

Wheat.—Wheat deliveries are very light. Fifty-eight cents per bushel is being paid for the best quality.

Oats.—The oat market is practically dead, very little coming in. From 25 to 28 cents a bushel is paid.

WHITE WHALE LAKE

Crops on the reserve look very fine. Berries are superabundant.

The C. N. R. survey party are now at work locating the main line westward the Yellowhead. They are continuing the work from the point where they stopped last winter, near the White Whale Indian reserve and will locate the line to the crossing of the Pembina.

It will probably be a surprise to many to learn that Mr. D. H. Lent, who for the past three and a half years has been missionary to the Indians, the white settlers and the lumbermen in this vicinity, has retired from the work and for the present at least will occupy his homestead close by. He is succeeded by Chas. F. Hopkins from Ontario.

Mr. Lent's brother-in-law, F. J. Francey of Milwaukee, has come out on a visit and the impression made had been so favorable that he has resolved to locate here.

Sour Stomach
—Bad Breath.

The body depends on the bowels to carry off all waste and poisonous matters from the system—it is Nature's drainage. If the bowels don't perform their functions properly and become clogged up, the system gradually absorbs this poison. It is this which causes sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, bad breath, inactive liver, lack of energy, heartburn, etc.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt will cure you by clearing away the obstruction and thoroughly cleansing the bowels. This brings healthy action to all the organs of the body and rids the system of the cause of illness.

In this way Abbey's Effervescent Salt permanently cures. A teaspoonful in half a glass of tepid water every morning.

A TALK OF ATHABASCA

The following interview with the Rev. Archdeacon Holmes on the Peace River country, appears in a recent issue of the Winnipeg Free Press:

"Ven. Archdeacon Holmes, Church of England missionary at Lesser Slave Lake, Athabasca, arrived in the city from his distant mission on Monday, accompanied by his wife and five children, who are on their way to England for a stay of a couple of years. The archdeacon intends going as far as Montreal and then returning in time to reach Edmonton by the 25th inst. Mrs. Holmes will prolong her stay to secure the education of their children, three of whom will be placed in the Church Missionary Home at Elmfield in Surrey. The archdeacon expects himself to go to England about a year hence to remain there a year and then return with Mrs. Holmes and the younger children.

The past spring the archdeacon describes as having been cold and backward; there was snow on the 24th of May as also at Edmonton, but in spite of that the crops looked well. The season had been very dry up to the time when they left, but just afterwards a day's rain came and saved the crops.

Settlers are now coming into that remote country; the archdeacon's party met four large families of Norwegians who intend to settle at Lesser Slave Lake for the present on account of the advantage of the schools and look out a section of country to suit them afterwards. There are also, he says, quite a number of families at Spirit River, in the Peace river district, 140 miles west of the mission, some of whom are farming and others ranching. Grand Prairie is also receiving settlers; it is twenty miles southwest of Spirit River; this prairie is described as a suitable country for ranching. Another good prairie is above St. John's; this is 250 miles from Lesser Slave Lake and 200 miles from Peace River Crossing.

Good advice which Archdeacon Holmes gives concerning settlement in that country is that, until a railway reaches there it would be a mistake for many of the poorer class to go in, as the only work for those dependent upon finding employment is in connection with the missions and the traders and is therefore limited. The Norwegians referred to have some means, and they took the precaution to have some of their number go up in the winter and select a place. People going to Grand Prairie, he says, ought to have two or three years' provisions with them; otherwise there may be a good deal of suffering in the absence of railway communication.

Asked if any provision was being made for the spiritual wants of these new settlers, the archdeacon answered that on the way out he had met at Athabasca Landing, Mr. Simpson, a Presbyterian missionary, who was going to the Spirit River, and that the Roman Catholics are carrying on the work at the Grand Prairie.

Last year, the archdeacon says, there was a magnificent crop all through the Peace River district. Returning to his mission he left Edmonton on Sept. 22nd, at which time there was wheat, also oats still to be cut. When he reached home he found that the crops in the Peace river district had been safely housed two weeks before. This was interesting feature, showing that the crops in the Athabasca district were certainly two weeks earlier than in the Edmonton district. Agricultural industry has been pursued thus far only to a limited extent, by traders and a few of the more enterprising natives. His experience of seventeen years in Athabasca, he says, has been that while some people say it is very subject to frost, it is not really more so than Edmonton was seventeen years ago. He has seen that where there was trouble with frost four or five years ago, after more extensive and proper cultivation the frost gradually disappears. It used to be said that Edmonton would never be a wheat growing country but Archdeacon Holmes has now seen places where land which had been abandoned has gone up in price to $5 an acre. He has proved the same thing on a small scale on the mission land. Where at the beginning vegetables were frozen for two years out of three, they have never had anything frozen in the garden for the last five or six years. Last year, while others had potatoes frozen three times, he had English beans, scarlet runners and other produce which were never touched. He observed that during the period when this frost was on the surface, the cultivated soil was still warm a couple of inches beneath, and he believes the same effect would be found to result from cultivation on a larger scale. Generally speaking, he says the frost was much more severe at Lesser Slave Lake twelve years ago than it is now.

For those going into that country, Archdeacon Holmes says that winter is the best unless they are driving stock, but if they have cattle the best time is in August and September, when the rivers are low, as going later would involve danger of snowstorms and consequent suffering. A number of settlers drove in last winter; they erected tents on their sleighs, placed stoves in them and travelled very comfortably all the way from Edmonton to the Spirit River.

Asked whether the settlers would be able to do much towards supporting themselves by hunting and fishing, the archdeacon answered that wild ducks, geese and prairie chicken are numerous on the Grand Prairie; but he did not think that settlers could depend much on fishing.

The trip into the country he describes as more tedious than coming out. Coming down stream his party were only nine days travelling from Lesser Slave Lake to Edmonton, but going up stream it takes nine or ten days from Athabasca Landing. The railway line from Calgary to Edmonton has shortened the journey very considerably since the archdeacon's first trip, when he had to travel with Red River carts all the way from Calgary.

Quite a number of passengers were waiting at Athabasca Landing for transportation when Archdeacon Holmes passed through; so many in fact, that the Hudson's Bay company's boats could not take them. One of the traders agreed to send down a boat for passengers. In answer to a question as to how the natives regarded the influx of so many strangers, the archdeacon said that many of the natives depended upon boating for earnings with which to purchase their supplies of winter clothing, and they knew that this occupation will cease as soon as a railroad is built. Generally speaking, however, the natives are pleased to see the settlers and they expect that other kinds of work will take the place of boating and be available for those inclined to labor.

The mission congregation at Lesser Slave Lake numbers about 150. The people are all of the Cree nation. Those at St. John's are Beaver Indians; they are rapidly dying out. The Roman Catholic mission has a steamer which had made a couple of trips from Peace River Landing up to St. John's towards the foothills of the Rocky mountains, and had started down to Vermilion, distant about 250 miles. That the Peace river is an important stream will be realized from the figures given, and also from the statement that at Peace River Crossing it is 700 yards wide.

An interesting fact mentioned by Archdeacon Holmes is that in all the years of his residence in Athabasca he has never seen a hail storm sufficient to do any damage.

A great influx of settlers is predicted even before the construction of a railroad. The archdeacon even fears that before the railroad comes all the prairie land may be taken up, and the people who come later will have to take the bush land. He says there is not so much prairie as in Saskatchewan but there is more bush than prairie. There is some fine timber. Most of this is poplar, but there are also good bluffs of spruce. He describes one timbered tract, some eighty miles from Lesser Slave Lake; it is 12 miles across and probably 15 miles in length and consists of very fine spruce, the trees standing thickly together and many of them rising to a height of 80 and 90 feet without a branch. There is not, he says, much heavy timber this side of Lesser Slave Lake, most of it being between that point and the mountains. At Edmonton he heard that a good deal of poplar is now cut and that it is found to be as good as spruce. If this proves to be correct, the question of supply will, he considers, be an easy one, as there is abundance of poplar.

HORSE HILLS

Rev. G. W. Sparling has returned from his vacation which he spent at Banff.

Our teacher, W. J. Hobbs, is spending a few weeks visiting at Fort Saskatchewan.

Jules Frangerville has returned to Calgary after paying a flying visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Coley.

There was much rejoicing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Gibson on the 4th inst., when a baby boy was born to them.

Mr. R. McLean, who returned recently from the Barr colony, is spending a few days at the Halfway House.

School closed here this week for the summer vacation. The vacation will undoubtedly be longer than usual as the trustees intend to reopen in the new schoolhouse when completed.

The Percheron stallion, Lino, the property of the Horse Improvement company, was on exhibition at the fair in Edmonton last week. As he was the only horse of that type competing against all the rest which were Clydesdales, he was only awarded third prize.

J. D. Sears of the Lewis farm, has returned from the Landing. Mr. Sears had intended to go through to the Peace River country on a land prospecting trip, but owing to the impracticable summer route to that point, he will not go back until next fall.

Construction on the new school building commenced this week. Masons are now at work laying the foundation, which will be of stone. It is expected to have the building completed in about two months, in time for the reopening of the school for the fall term.

The post office here is now being served with a daily mail. The mail from Edmonton arrives at ten a.m., and returns at four p.m. The postmaster is now kept so busy that he is thinking of retiring from farming and going into the post office business.

Geo. West had the misfortune lately of losing his heavy draft stallion. About the same time his other team horse was taken so seriously ill with influenza that he was obliged to take the horse to town for treatment. Under the careful treatment of J. H. Pickering, V.S., the horse is now recovering.

The picnic which was held here on the 27th ult. was in every way a decided success. As it was some years since a gathering of this sort took place here, almost all the people of the district attended, besides numerous outsiders. Refreshments were served in a booth which was erected for the purpose, the ladies being kept busy making ice cream and lemonade. Well filled baskets were in abundance and the company was well served at tea, which was spread in the shade of the trees. The football match which was to have been the feature of the evening was marred by the sudden appearance of rain, which hurried everybody home early. Although the rain spoiled the evening, a most pleasant afternoon was spent by all. Rev. G. W. Sparling and W. J. Hobbs described much credit for the very excellent manner in which the affair was conducted. We hope to have such friendly gatherings more frequently in the future.

July 9th.

STRATHCONA RATEPAYERS MEET. The undersigned.

On Friday evening last a meeting of ratepayers of the town was held in the council chamber to discuss the municipal electric light situation. About thirty appeared.

Mayor Duggan took the chair, and stated the present position of affairs. He pointed out that the town plan is now loaded to its full capacity and the electricians state that they have orders for about 700 more lights to be installed before fall. It means that something must be done at once to supply the demand for light. There were two or three propositions. One was to add another engine and another dynamo similar to those already in use; another was to install a complete new outfit with a 3,000 light dynamo and 225 h. p. engine, using the old plant as an auxiliary. This would involve an expenditure of at least $15,000. Another proposition was to secure a 3,000 light dynamo and arrange to have it installed at Walter's saw mill and make a contract with Mr. Walter to operate it. Mr. Walter had been approached on the subject and had agreed to submit figures. He has ample power, which lies idle a good part of the winter. He has cheap fuel in abundance and could probably operate the plant at a considerable saving to the town.

The matter was freely discussed and the meeting was unanimously in favor of dealing with Mr. Walter if a satisfactory contract could be made with him. Such an arrangement would not be permanent, but temporary pending developments expected during the next few months, and the prospect of waterworks and sewerage systems being installed in the near future. It was generally believed that the power house for waterworks would be located at the river and that the electric light plant could be more economically operated on the same premises than elsewhere.
